2019 Symposium in Toronto, Canada

We are pleased to reveal that the 2019 Active House Symposium will take place in Toronto, Canada hosted by the Alliance's Canadian national branch. This shows the global growth of the Active House Alliance and marks the first time the Active House Symposium is held outside Europe.

The dates are yet to be finally decided, but it will be in September. More details to come!

The Alliance at Work

General Assembly meeting, Board of Advisory committee meeting and the future of Active House

The General Assembly and the Board of Advisory committee both met on the 7th of March in London to discuss the future of the Active House Alliance. It was a fruitful debate which centered around three dimensions on which the Alliance is planning to better leverage: value creation, national actions and global visibility raising. Much of the debate elaborated on how the upcoming activities could better support the sustainable development goals particularly towards SDG 17 on Partnership for the Goals and SDG 11 on Sustainable Cities and Communities.

Besides technical discussions, the Alliance also nominated its new board members who will provide valuable support to lift the Alliance on the next level.

New national alliance – Active House Ukraine

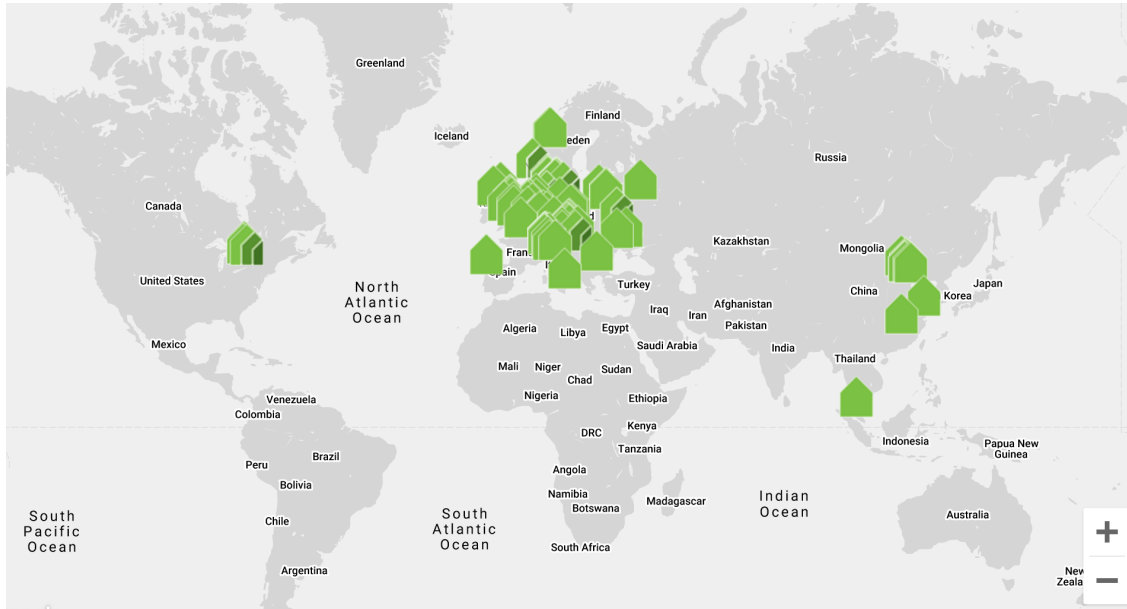

There have already been lots of Active House activities taking place in Ukraine. And now there's even a national alliance! At the General Assembly in the paperwork was signed and there's now an Active House alliance in Ukraine! Fingers crossed for many more exciting Active House projects in Ukraine.

New Active House Alliance member – Sydney University

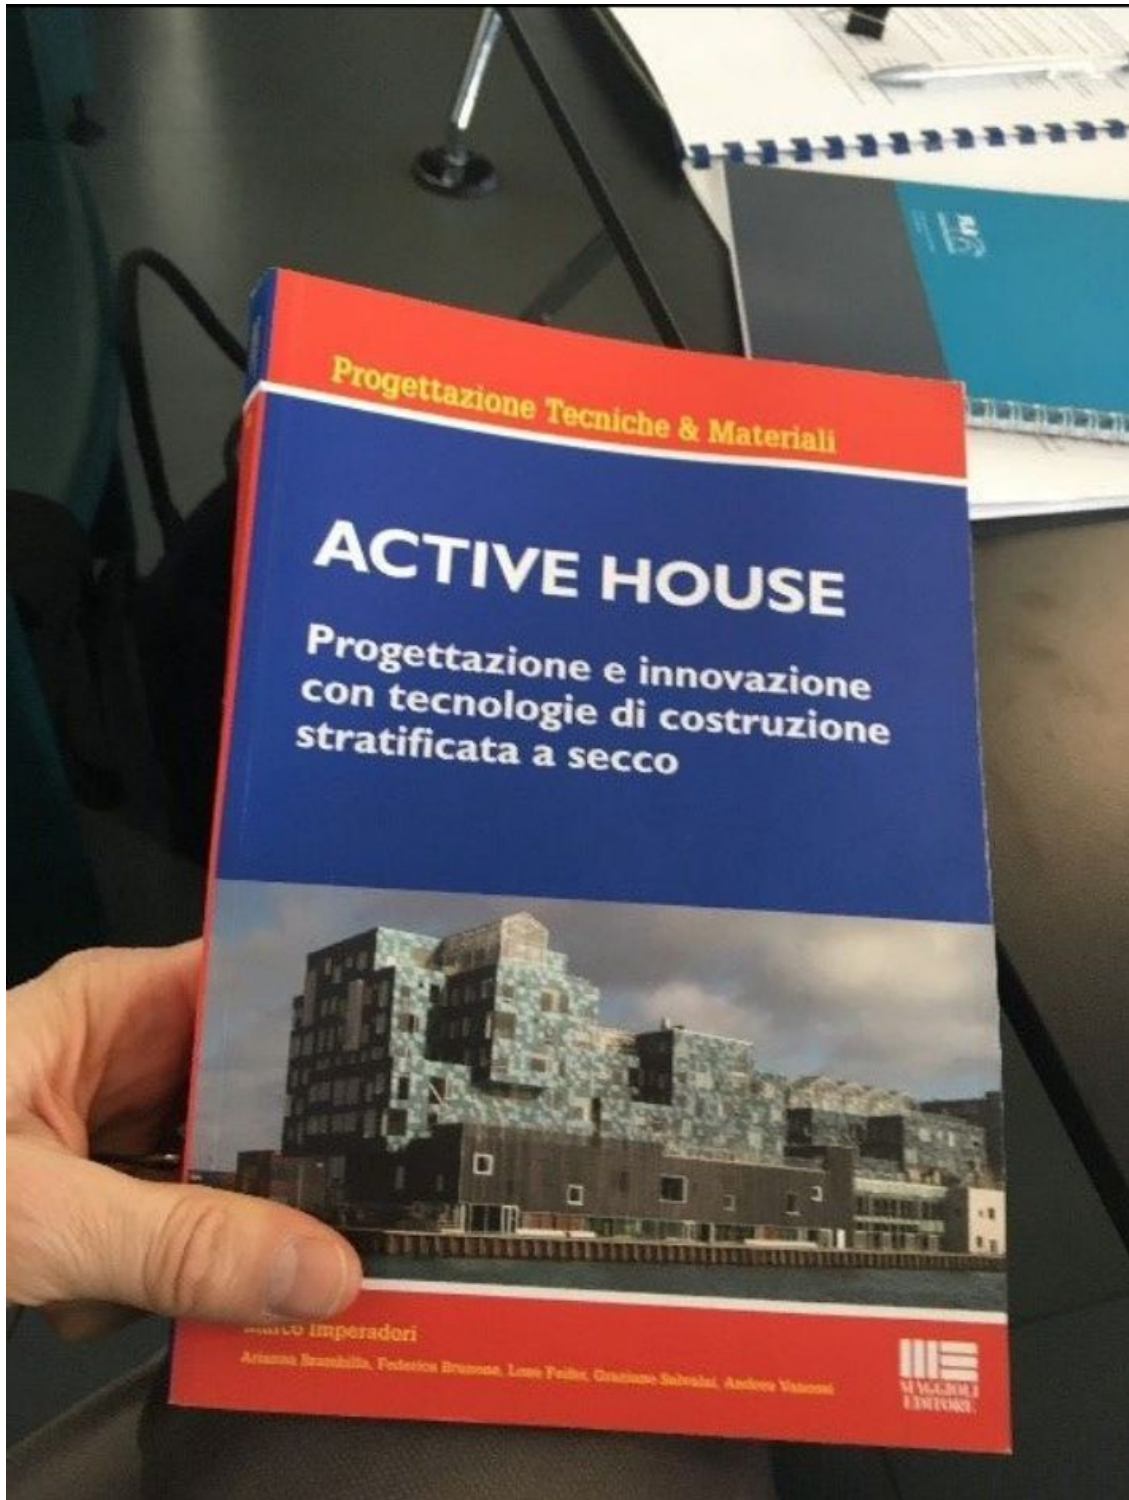

Active House has come to Australia! Sydney University has become the first Australian member to join the Active House Alliance.

Map of Active Houses

We have been working on collecting the locations of all the Active Houses that exist and putting them on an interactive map. Good news: we are almost there. Soon to come on the Active House website, the map will let you zoom in to see if there's an Active House near you!
